DID YOU KNOW?

- Although Thomas Jefferson wasn't a big fan of dogs at first, he is responsible for starting the American branch of the Briard breed after bringing a pregnant Briard home from France in 1789.
- George Washington was an avid dog breeder. He started the American Foxhound line by breeding french hound dogs sent to him from the Marquis de Lafayette with his own hounds. Among his Foxhounds were Sweet Lips, Topsy, Drunkard, and Vulcan.
